

Mind~Body~Spirit Eco-Retreat for Women

Loving What Is: The Work of Byron Katie as facilitated by Jen Deraspe

Saturday, June 27, 11am through Sunday, June 28, 11am

The Work is a simple, yet radical and life-changing process that involves questioning the thoughts that are causing you stress. "I should have more support...People should listen to me... There is something wrong with me ...I don't have enough time...People should respect me...I need more money...You shouldn't have left me..." Thoughts like these pass through our minds throughout the day, causing stress, anxiety, fear, anger, and depression.

Learn a simple way to clear the mind and move from fear to freedom, from anger to joy, and from confusion to clarity. Anyone with an open mind can do The Work, and in this experiential and reflective workshop, participants learn how to use The Work in areas of their lives causing pain, separation and stress.

You will have the opportunity to:

- learn to identify and question your stressful thinking
- consider and experience the opposite of your stressful thinking
- learn how to facilitate yourself using The Work's four questions and turnarounds
- take home a powerful tool that can help you live with clarity and integrity
- explore your inner and outer landscape on a guided, gently paced day canoe trip on a local waterway

Retreat includes: One night's shared eco-cabin stay, programming, tea and light refreshments. Cost $145 per person. Participants are invited to bring a healthy vegetarian dish to share for Saturday night pot luck. Saturday lunch and Sunday breakfast is on your own. Simple cooking amenities are available in your cabin. For an additional $40, you may extend your cabin stay on Friday or Sunday evening.
